Briefs.
—The fire police hold a monthly meeting this evening.
—Janesville City Lodge No. 90, I. O. O. F., occupy Old Fellows hall this evening—regular weekly meeting.
—On the banks of the river that were covered with six feet of water last spring, quite a growth of grass is now to be seen.
—Western Star Lodge No. 14, A. F. and A. M., assemble in regular semi-monthly communication this evening at Masonic hall.

—A young horse belonging to Galbraith Bros., and valued at one thousand dollars, died of inflammation of the lungs Monday morning.
—The payroll of the city teachers of J. C. Gross aggregates $3,103; Macine $2,510; Oakes, $2,000; Appleton, $2,135; Fond du Lac, $1,645; Janesville, $1,620.

—We learn that Ogden H. Pethers and J. W. Winans, of this city, have been retained on the part of the state in the trial of Haxelino for the murder of A. E. Moore, at Stevens Point.

—The board of water commissioners held a regular meeting last evening at which all the commissioners were present. The engineer not having the plans and specifications ready to report, an adjournment was taken.

—The Chicago & Northwestern switch engine, while helping a loaded train over the grade near the crossing four miles north of the city last evening broke a wheel, and another engine had to be called to pull the "cripple" into the shop.

—This morning, as a load of hay was being drawn across the Milwaukee street bridge, one wheel of the wagon became caught in the car track and nearly every spoke was broken out. The load, which belonged to William Butts, of Harmony, was put on another wagon and the other vehicle was taken away for repairs.

—The record at the Washburn observatory tells an eloquent story of the drought in July, when it says that the average rainfall for July from 1880 to 1885 inclusive was 4.53-100 inches, while during that month in 1885 it was 79-100 of an inch. There has not been a rainfall in Madison sufficient to benefit vegetation since May 9.

—Work on the Myers opera house is going on rapidly. It is expected to open the season about September 20th, and already the management have secured a number of excellent attractions. Among them are "Michael Strogoff," "The Two Johns," "Skipped by the Light of the Moon," "Soap Bubbles," and "Peculiar Stars." Maggie Mitchell, Roland Reed, and Joseph Murphy will also appear in now plays.

—If there is any philanthropist in the city who is looking for something to do, he might take some cuttings of willow trees and set on occasionally along the east bank of the river below the dam. The trees would take root readily even on rocky ground, and would improve the appearance of that part of the city a great deal. Janesville is really a beautiful place, but the view presented to strangers passing over the Milwaukee street bridge and looking up the river, would not go far toward sustaining that idea.

—Hon. L. B. Caswell, member of congress from this district, arrived at his Ft. Atkinson home on Sunday morning, in response to a telegram announcing the dangerous illness of his wife. This is the fourth time Mr. Caswell has been called home during the last three months on account of the illness of his wife. Mr. Caswell will not be able to return to Washington before the adjournment of congress, which he sincerely regrets as he has a great amount of public business to attend to, which will necessitate his presence and his return in a few days.

—The Milwaukee Sentinel: It seems to be the general opinion in this city that the successor of Chas. Babbit, as secretary of the State Agricultural society, should reside in Milwaukee. Thus far the only persons named as candidates have been residents of Madison and Elkhorn, and while their qualifications are not questioned, it is urged that they could not do justice to the duties of the position at such a distance. Manager Beebe, of the exposition, said that the subject would probably not be seriously considered until after this year's fair, but concurred in the opinion that the secretary of the society should be a Milwaukeean, or at least make this city his headquarters, in view of the probability that the state fair would be permanently located here. Mr. Babbit in the mean time can perform his duties as secretary at Beloit, and be absent from his postoffice no longer than during fair week.

In Memoriam.
WHEREAS, We have today, with saddened hearts, laid in a silent grave our beloved sister, Mrs. Emily E. Powell, and
WHEREAS, She was a worthy and helpful member of our Grange, therefore
Resolved, That we hereby express our heartfelt sorrow at her death and extend to her afflicted family our sincere sympathy in this, their great loss; and as we remember her cheerful and peaceable disposition, her kindness and her great helpfulness, we feel that we have indeed lost a most worthy and loved member, one who will be greatly missed and sadly mourned.

Resolved, That our charter be draped in mourning for thirty days and a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Grange paper, to the Weekly Telephone, the Janesville Gazette, and also to the family of our departed sister.

Miss JENNIE DENNISON,
Miss MINNIE RICE,
Miss LUCENA GILBERT,

My washing is always finished bright and early because I use Fairbank's pure soap.

Knight of Honor Attention.
There will be a special meeting of Me. morial Lodge No. 318, K. of H., at the office of Silas Hayner, this evening, at eight o'clock sharp. Every member who is interested in keeping his insurance in this organization will do well to be present, as matters of importance pertaining to the continuance of the lodge will be discussed. JOHN McCLELLAN, Dictator.

Fairbank's Soap is the champion dirt remover; no grocer's stock complete without it.

OBITUARY.
L. A. FITCH.
Like a shock of corn, fully ripe and ready for the harvest, was the life of Mr. D. A. Fitch. So the sudden death found him at his home in the town of Center last evening, and at the ripe old age of 90 years, he peacefully passed away. Mr. Fitch was among the pioneer settlers of Rock county, and for the past forty years had been identified with its interests. He enjoyed the confidence and esteem of a large circle of friends who had learned to appreciate his counsel and sympathy in the years of his vigorous manhood and who were impressed by his patience and gentleness during the years of his old age.

The funeral services will occur tomorrow, Wednesday, at 3 o'clock p. m., at the Grove church in Center.

PERSONAL.
—J. B. Hayer was to Madison this morning on a few days' visit.
—Mr. John Griffith has just returned from Haron, Dakota, where he has been visiting for the past ten days.

—Mrs. Adam Sanner, of the fourth ward, is in Brocville, visiting relatives and friends. She expects to remain about two weeks.

—Mrs. W. T. Vaukirik and Miss Fannie Vaukirik started today to join a camping party a short distance above the four mile bridge.

—T. B. Earle, who represents the firm of T. C. Lind Hamilton & Co., tobacco dealers, is in the city inspecting the packing of Central Bree.

—Mrs. R. P. Young, of North Bluff street, second ward, was called to Crystal Lake, Illinois, this morning, to attend her mother, who is reported dangerously sick with typhoid fever.

—Mr. George Smith, who was for years an employee of M. C. Smith, but who for the last fifteen years has been employed in the establishment now known as Marshall Field's in Chicago, is in the city on a short visit.

—Mrs. Olie H. Brand yesterday for the first time she expects to spend the next two months visiting her parents and other relatives in New York State. On her return, she will stop for a short visit at Lockport and Detroit.

—For a few days we have missed the genial face of our young friend J. B. Whiting, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Whiting, and on inquiry, learn that he has laid himself away for a short vacation. For a long time Mr. Whiting has been closely attending to his studies, having intended a liking for the profession of his sire, and we know of no young man more deserving of a holiday, or one possessing so many of those estimable traits of character which go to make a true gentleman. That he will enjoy his brief respite from the archives of medical lore, and return refreshed for the renewal of the difficult study of the republican science is the wish of his many friends.

Almost a Drowning.
A party of Janesville people composed of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Baker, Dr. Q. O. Sutherland and Mrs. M. D. Dow who spent Sunday at Geneva Lake returned last evening. As the steamer "Commodore" with some of the party on board was at the pier at Keyes Park on Sunday afternoon, a row boat containing four persons capsized about fifteen rods from shore. Only one, a woman, could be seen above the water and Captain Allen, of the steamer, at once ran to the wheel and signalled the engineer to back out. As the boat gained headway he pulled off his coat and shoes and stood on the rail ready to jump.

He intended to pick up the woman who was clinging to the row boat first, as the two men who had been thrown in the water were already half way to shore striking out energetically; but just as he came up to her he saw the other woman lying on the bottom looking back at him. He dove for her instantly and signalled the engineer to back out. As the boat gained headway he pulled off his coat and shoes and stood on the rail ready to jump.

It was found that the whole party lived near the lake, and that the man who had acted in such a cowardly way were about half drunk. A purse was raised for Captain Allen by the passengers and those on shore, but he refused it, saying that he did not do such things for money. He has saved a number of lives in about the same way, and is known all around the lake as a strong, skillful swimmer.

MARRIAGE.
—Mrs. Charles Canavan is on the sick list.
—Master Hardie Shea, of Milwaukee, is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd.

—Miss Clara E. Leonard returned from Waukegan, Ill., Saturday, where she has been visiting friends for several weeks.
—Mr. Matthew Baileys, who has been working for C. E. Palmer, returned to Janesville Monday.

—Mr. and Mrs. James Boyd are visiting friends in Edgerton.
—Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Palmer visited friends in Green and Dane counties last week.

—Mr. John Hicke, of Janesville, visited his daughter, Mrs. H. A. Palmer, on Sunday, it being the first time he had been able to ride out since he was stricken with paralysis about a year ago.
—The Harmony Sunday school will meet at the town hall next Friday evening for song practice. A large attendance is requested to be present to aid a good cause.

—Rev. Miner, of Madison, will preach at town hall on Sunday next. Let there be a full house to greet the reverend gentleman.
—Geo. Griswold was hastily summoned on Wednesday to the bedside of his wife. She is very low with consumption at Evansville, Ind.—Later Mrs. Griswold died Thursday.

IN THE COURTS.
A Suit from Racine—A Harvest at Assessor's Office—Case—Two Actions for Trespass.
CINCINNATI COURT.
An action from the Racine county circuit court came up before Judge Bennett this morning. It was that of the state ex rel T. O. Williams against A. F. Hayes et al., supervisors of Yorkville. The relators made a motion to punish the supervisors for contempt in not making return to a common law writ of certiorari. The defendants made a motion to supersede the writ, and upon hearing the arguments the court ordered them to make a return to the writ. This being done immediately, the defendants moved to quash the writ presenting affidavits and the records of a former suit in equity in support of the motion. This being submitted the motion to quash was granted. The case grew out of the digging of a ditch across the land of the relator.

HONORABLE COURT.
Judge Fatten now has a choice assortment of assault and battery cases before him, although he disposed of one yesterday afternoon. This was the case against John Galtrey, who was charged with being too free in the use of a pitchfork. He was fined one dollar and costs, the whole thing amounting to about twenty dollars.

Alexander Caldwell was on trial today. The complainant, Gabriel Goldsmith, was struck over the head with a monkey wrench in return for some indecent and abusive language that he used toward the defendant.

The case of "Deacon" William Moore is set for this afternoon, but may not come up. Last night Marshal Hogan and Turnley Adelson ran in a crowd of young men who had enlisted a poor woman, a stranger in the town, into a tobacco shed some distance down the brook under the pretense of finding her a lodging place. They will probably come up to-morrow.

JUSTICE WICKHAM'S COURT.
"Two souls with but a single thought" had a good illustration in this court today. First the case of Raybor against Wikom came up and a decision was rendered for the plaintiff in the sum of fifteen dollars. The action was for trespass, it being claimed that the defendant's cattle had broken into the plaintiff's property from the road. The defendant, however, was not satisfied and as soon as the other case was finished, one was immediately commenced in which the plaintiff in the former case was the defendant and vice versa. About all that happened during the morning was to summon a jury and the trial of the case began this afternoon.

FATHER MAGINITY MARRIED.
The arrival home from Europe of the Rev. Father McGinitty, yesterday afternoon, a brief mention of which was made in last evening's Gazette, was quite a surprise to his parishioners, and an impromptu reception was hurriedly planned and executed. At 7:30 o'clock the Catholic corner band and a large number of the members of St. Patrick's parish assembled at the residence of Father McGinitty, on Quarry street, near the church edifice, the band playing "Home, Sweet Home," and when Father McGinitty, accompanied by Father Spillard, appeared at the door, they were received with hearty cheers of welcome by the citizens there assembled.

Mr. H. M. Joyce, president of the St. Patrick's I. A. and B. society, addressed to Father McGinitty the following cheering words of welcome:
Rev. and dear Father McGinitty:

After a safe and pleasant journey to the land of your birth, and a much needed rest and recreation, on behalf of the St. Patrick's I. A. and B. society, the O'Connell branch of the I. N. L. and the congregation generally, I welcome you home. I need not tell you how much we value your services, your labors in our behalf since you came among us, and although your place during your absence was mostly filled by your co-laborer, Father Spillard, still the hearts of your children rejoice at the safe return of their own dear father, and the gathering called together in the short space of two or three hours, show by their enthusiasm more plainly than words could express their love and veneration for you. Again, now, Father, I welcome you home, and I know that I voice the sentiment of all here present, and of this entire community when I say: God give you health and strength to continue to labor for us in the future as in the past, and when He calls upon you to give an account of your stewardship, He will say: "Well done, thou good and faithful servant, thou hast been faithful in a few things; I will place thee over many, enter thou into the joy of the Lord."

The band again rendered a beautiful piece of music, and Father Spillard spoke eloquent words of welcome to the beloved pastor of St. Patrick's church. Upon entering the parochial residence Father McGinitty found that it had been completely refurbished by the good ladies of the parish.

After mass by the band there followed a time of genuine greetings, ban shaking and congratulations. Father McGinitty has had a very pleasant journey to and from Europe, and returns home to his people greatly refreshed and ready to assume the arduous duties of his charge with renewed vigor.

Tobacco.
Hail Storms Cause Trouble in Connecticut and Pennsylvania.
Fall and Spring Hauling—What has been done to the various markets.
JANESVILLE.
Some rain has fallen during the past week in many parts of the country. Tobacco has been greatly helped by these showers and fields have now taken a new lease of life. The principal trouble is that the plants were held back by dry weather at the start and may be nipped by the frost before they mature. As stated by the Gazette last week the acreage of the '86 crop has been considerably under estimated. The assessors reports which were taken during the month of June and which show a reduction of only one fifth over the acreage of last year are undoubtedly too high; but the statement of one of our correspondents that the land devoted to tobacco this year will only be one-third of that in 1885 is rather unreliable nevertheless. Good judges place it at about one-half of what it was last year and say that in many places the stand was never equalled in the state except during the last two seasons.

IN GENERAL.
The difference between fall and spring mowing is more noticeable this year than for a long time. When mowers are used in the spring, especially if plowed in, it draws so much of the moisture from the plant that the plants are weakened, because nature requires much moisture to decompose it. This year there has been no rain to spare and those whose fields were in proper condition to receive what has fallen have profited remarkably. Nature usually gives its best results where applied in the fall. On ground plowed and once dragged it should be spread and well harrowed. It then acts as a filter to prevent water standing around the plant and the water will furnish it in prompt nutriment for the roots.

The Western Tobacco Journal, of Cincinnati, expresses a doubt as to the correctness of the Wisconsin Tobacco Reporter's statement that the acreage of '86 is two thirds less than that of '85. The Journal says:
"After carefully reading the correspondence, and taking into consideration the relative importance of the different points involved, we are of the opinion that proper deduction would be that the acreage is at least 50 per cent. of that of last year, and probably 60 per cent. Besides our information from reliable sources in the tobacco belt, and from other exchanges, confirm us in regarding the Reporter's estimates entirely too low and unwarranted by actual conditions."

NEW YORK CITY.
Labor troubles have caused a considerable dullness in the market. In all about 1,500 cases of old changed hands. Much of these were announced reports as to sales of nearly 2000 cases '85 Wisconsin, but the alleged sales as well as the alleged buyers deny their truth or correctness. Nearly all of the old and '83 Pennsylvania crop, at 10 to 11 1/2 cents. Nothing can be had for less money; it is virtually an advance on the prices of three months ago, and such a price is not likely to be reached. These tobaccos are fast disappearing from the market.—United States Tobacco Journal.

CONNECTICUT VALLEY.
Very good growing weather, with copious rain and freedom from hail storms, is the record in the northern portion of the valley. The central portion has had a slight fall of hail, at East Windsor and Windsor Locks and in that region. This occurred Sunday, July 18. The track of the storm was not very far from the tobacco belt and the crop will in a measure grow out of it. The same day a harder and more extensive storm of rain and hail visited the Housatonic Valley. Advice from New Milford, dated July 18, at New Britain, the 22d report the damage very severe. "It extended over quite a length and breadth of the valley, and it was stated that one-half of the crop was ruined. Still if we have good weather we hope to see the crop grow out of much of the present seeming injury." Quite a portion of the crop is now ready to top, and considerable was topped last week.—American Cultivator.

PENNSYLVANIA.
Much anxiety prevails among the farmers as to the growing crop. Storms of wind and rain and hail have been so numerous as to cause alarm. As usual, the destruction was in the line of narrow belts. In some places the hail was quite small and of no consequence, while in others it was larger and proved very destructive. Some of one variety of tobacco have been brought to this office so badly out to pieces as to leave nothing but the ribs and a few shreds. Many a promising crop has been totally ruined. Still, a few good crops out of a total of nothing like 14,000 will have no serious bearing on the entire product of the county.—Janesville News Era.

EMERALD GROVE.
—Let every one turn out on Thursday night of this week and hear Rev. Samuel Plant on the prohibition question.
—Miss Jennie Alverson, of Beloit, spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Dr. Ford.

—One would think our enterprising butcher, J. A. Jones, was doing an extensive business from the way he was flying across the prairie one day this week. It is said that he was actually on his way to the city to buy a new outfit that thought it could outrun a dozen men and boys on horseback and we think it did as it was not captured until it reached a point somewhere between the main road and Milton.

—Mr. G. H. M. Cronse, nephew of John W. Davis, returned to his home in Glenview, N. Y.

—E. W. Kemp, who has been traveling in the southwest for the interest of the Walter A. Wood binder is at home for a short time.

—If the party who found a bundle of clothing in the road in La Prairie, will return it to E. D. Claiborne or leave it at the store they will be suitably rewarded.

—Hurry says the highest prices for good butter and fresh eggs in trade.

—Rev. Wardner, of Milton Junction, occupied the pulpit of the Congregational church July 25.

A young society of christian endeavorers has been formed in connection with the Congregational church. Members at present, forty active and four associate members, with good prospect of increase. They meet every Sabbath afternoon at 4 o'clock. The society will hold a social at Mr. Alex McGregor's on Thursday evening of this week.

Remember the prohibition meeting at the M. E. church Wednesday evening, August 3, 1886, at 7 o'clock.
—Our young people are planning a trip to Geneva Lake the near future.
—From the Death Evening Herald, July 28.—Rev. D. H. Jackson, of Emerald Grove, Wis., in company with his brother-in-law, S. W. Eastman, visited Duluth yesterday.

—Harvest Home social will be held in the Congregational church Friday afternoon and evening of next week, August 13. Supper will be furnished by the ladies. Attention will be given to the matter of a new church building, and every one is invited to be present and give his opinion on the subject.

—The influence of a Salvation Army may be all right in a city, but it will hardly fill the bill when brought into practical use on a farm, as the following absurd misadventure will show: One of the Army boys who is rusticated in the neighborhood has the making to attend to among his other work, and after extracting the corn from the field, night proceeded to his other chores with thoughts of a torchlight procession with bass drum and tambourine all complete. Next morning no corn could be found, and all lands were called out and mowed for cutting the weeds through and through, and waiting the neighboring farms with no success, the party proceeded homeward to feed and rest. As they approached the barn a sound was heard as of the lowering of a trap, and the boys were so frightened when the lost cows were soon found tied up in the barn, where they had been since the night before, waiting for the Army boy to turn them out for the night. "Don't milk them," said a Salvation Armyist—or don't milk anyhow.

The Weather.
At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 62 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with northwest wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 86 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy, with west wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 81 and 80 degrees above zero.

The Janesville Fire.
BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Aug. 2.—The fire at Bloomingville, Sunday night, destroyed nearly half the village. The citizens thought the chance as well as they could with no fire apparatus, but the water supply was soon exhausted. The department from the city arrived at midnight and soon got the fire under control. It was a loss of about $10,000, which though small to look at in figures, are big figures for the town. There is about $8,000 insurance.

The Sanitary Revolution Will Fail.
WASHINGTON CITY, Aug. 2.—The conference on the "sanitary" resolution had a conference late Monday afternoon, but failed to reach an agreement. Another conference may be held later, but it is pretty generally conceded that no agreement can be reached this session.

Chicago Drowned Again.
The language ball scores Monday were as follows: At New York—Chicago 4, New York 10; at Philadelphia—Detroit 4, Philadelphia 10; at Washington City—Kansas City 10, Washington 10; at Boston—St. Louis 7, Boston 14.
